We Love Limestone Flooring

It's a design treasure!

Our limestone tiles are at the heart of what we do, from our tumbled Madras to our brushed Palermo. They come in a variety of finishes, from a sleek and modern polish to a deliberately worn, rustic surface. The unique characteristics shine through the stone, including delicate veining and whole fossils, in rich hues that range between sage and amber, grey and blue, coral and gold.

It's also a gift in terms of functionality. Limestone is soft underfoot, but highly durable, able to withstand heavy traffic and decades of use, while a good sealer will protect it from water and condensation.

Practical, versatile and beautiful, our classic limestone manages to remain timeless, forever in style in spite of changing trends.

Classic Limestone

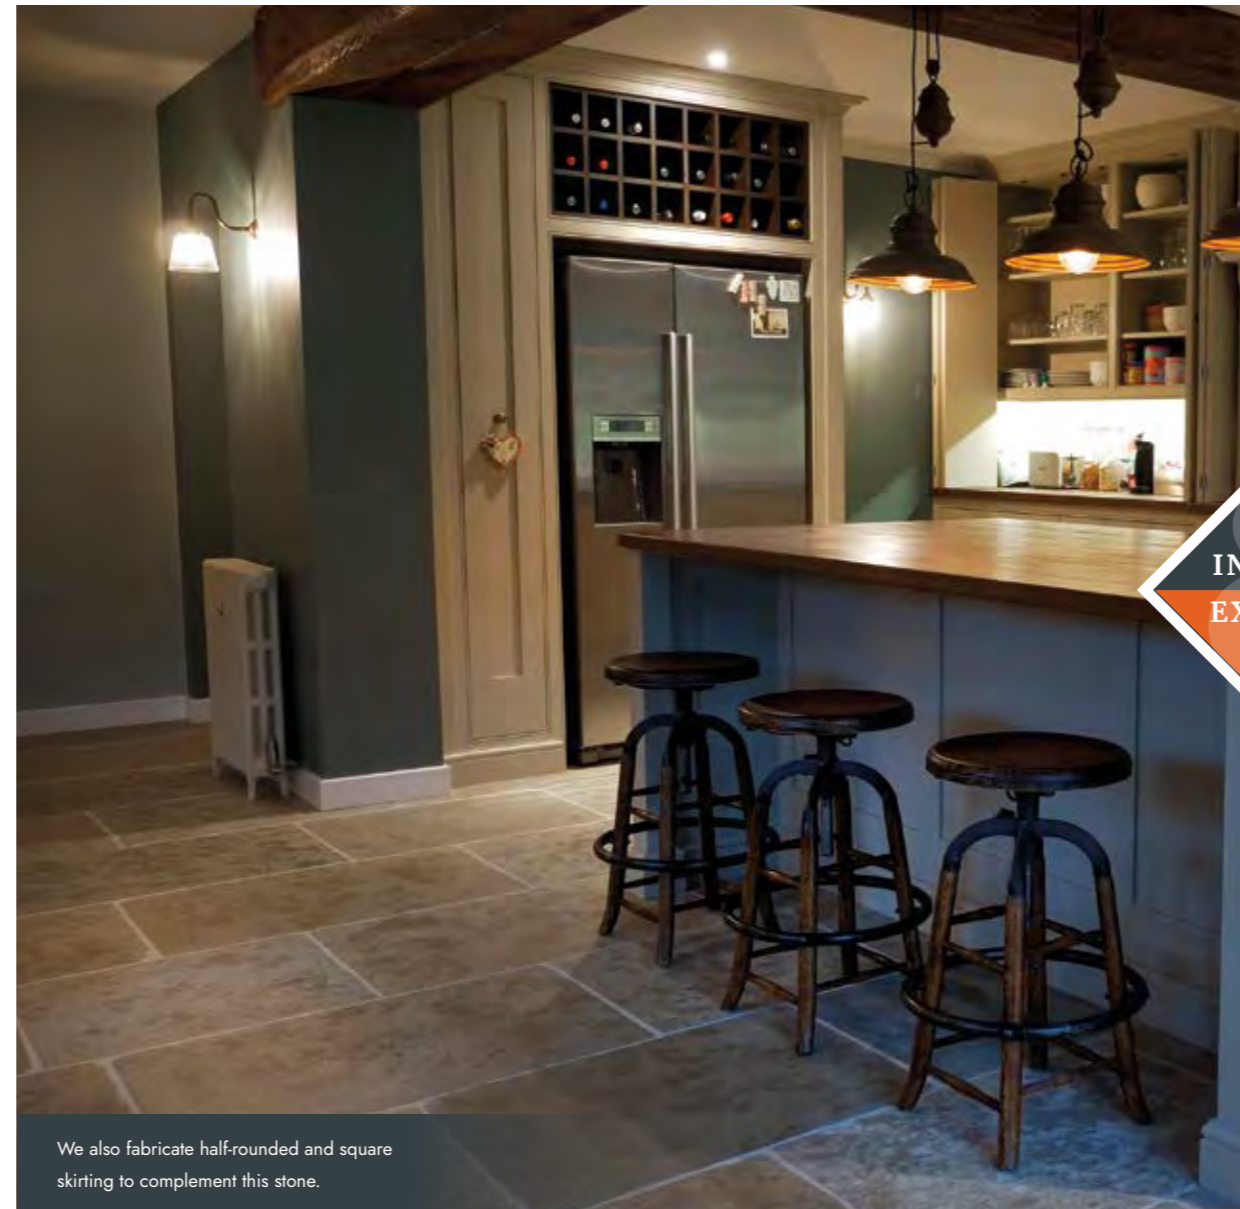

Madras

Tumbled & Aged

Our Madras limestone is extremely popular, with the aged surface reminiscent of an ancient flagstone floor. The tiles have been hand cut, half honed and brushed, resulting in a softened surface and worn edges. A Madras floor is full of character, with a combination of undertones in sage, grey and amber.

This is a calibrated limestone, suitable for inside and outside use.

We also fabricate half-rounded and square skirting to complement this stone.

Ashlar Honed & Tumbled

Ashlar limestone is soft and subtle, with deep tones of oatmeal and grey. It's warm and versatile, with delicate fossil markings that add a soft ambience to the environment.

You can explore variations on this limestone by heading to our website or turn the page to see our Authentic Ashlar tile.

Authentic Ashlar

A richer Ashlar tile

This inviting Ashlar stone offers deeper tones than the Ashlar Honed and Tumbled as it's a full mix of the original quarried limestone. It keeps the gentle shades of oatmeal and grey, but with richer and more varied colours.

Authentic Ashlar also displays more markings, including intriguing fossilisation and veining. Should you wish to install it outside, a 20mm external tile is available.

NEW

Grassington

A hard-wearing flagged floor with a brushed and tumbled finish

Grassington Tumbled Flagstone brings an old-fashioned charm, with sage, grey, amber and brown undertones. It's reminiscent of an original flagged floor, with tumbled edges and a brushed finish akin to a traditional country kitchen.

This distinctive finish also makes it more hard-wearing, ideal for high traffic in busy households. Grassington tiles are uncalibrated and with greater colour variation, suitable for interior and exterior use.

A cost-effective flagstone floor.

Tuscany Limestone

A creamy limestone with an antiqued finish

Our Tuscany tiles are made of an exclusive cream stone, with soft and warm undertones that will brighten up your home.

The tiles have been given a special antiqued finish to the face and edges, creating the appearance of an old, aged limestone. This surface wouldn't look out of place in an ancient Italian castle!

Matching skirtings made to order.

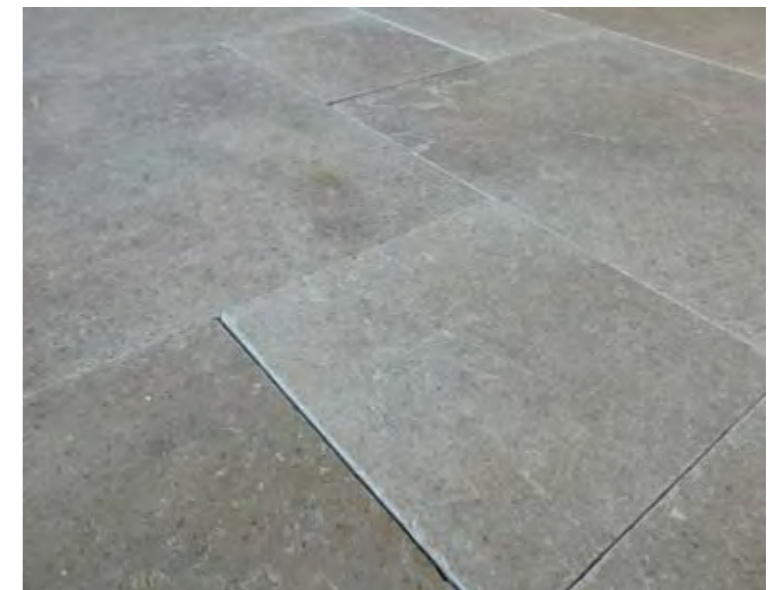

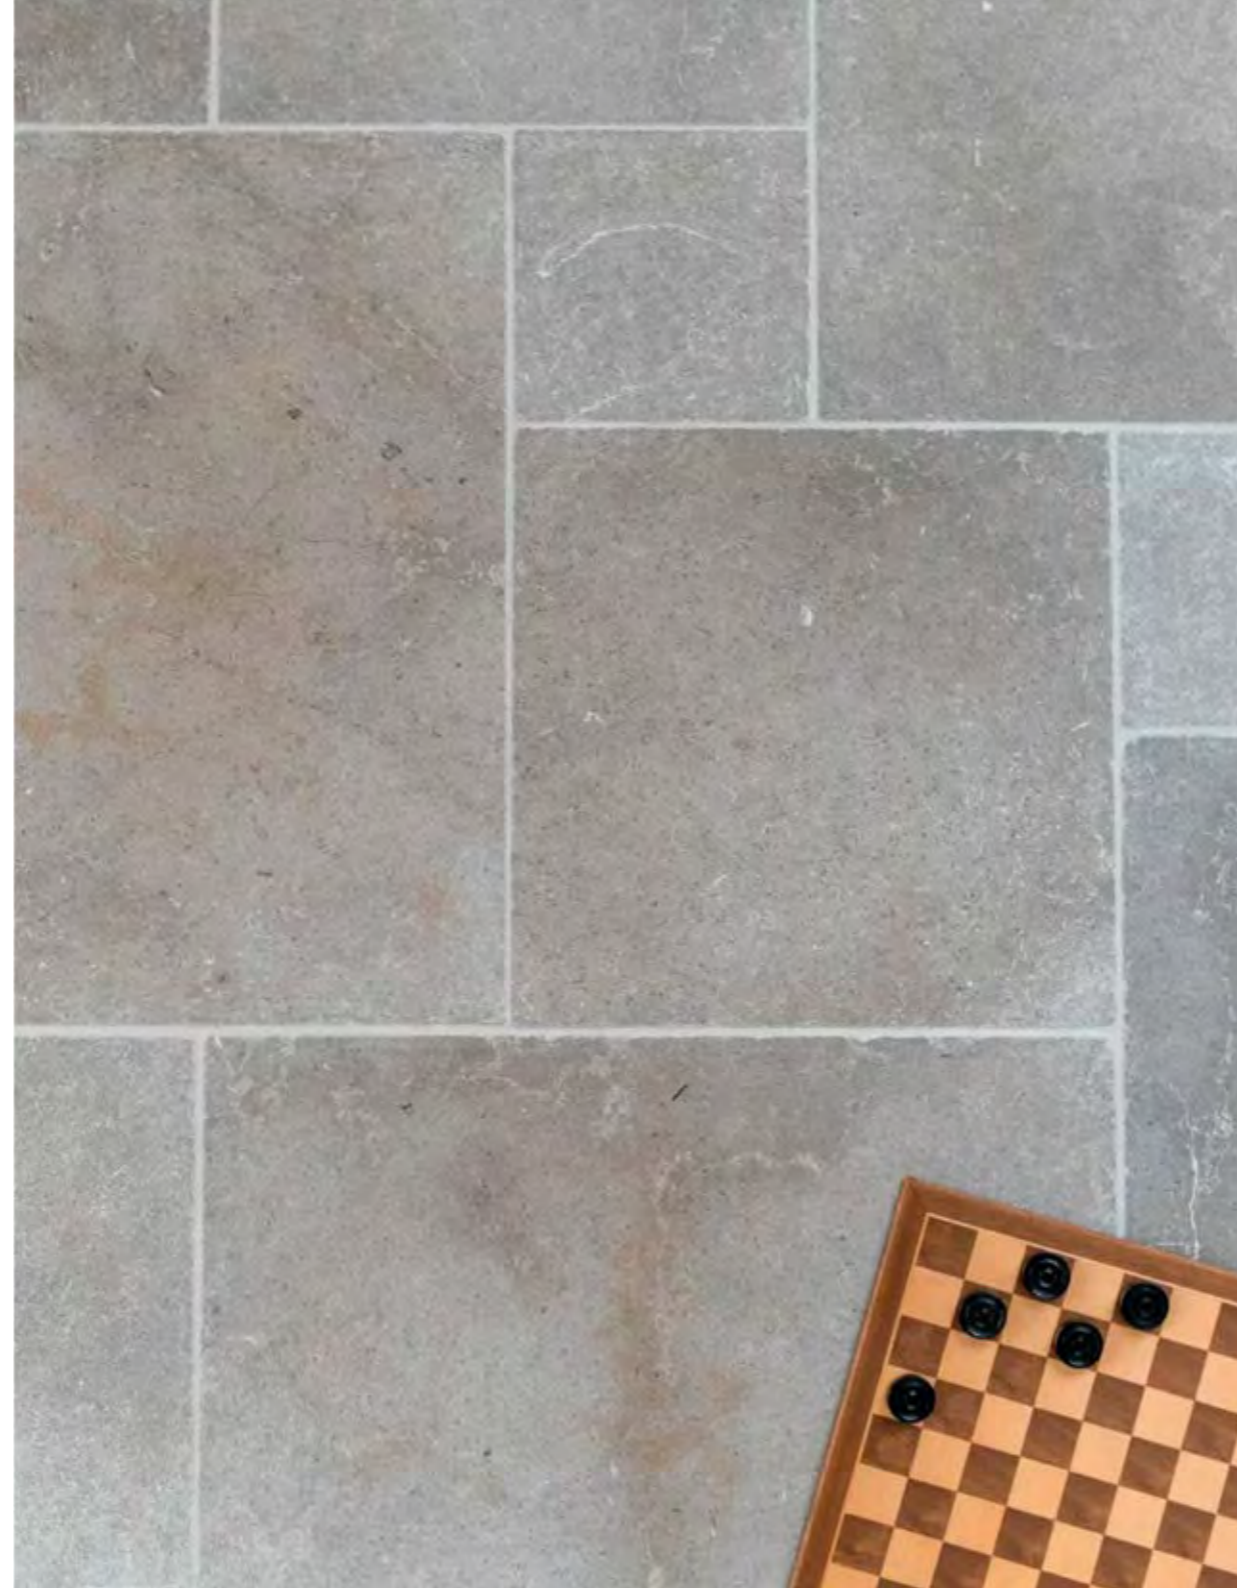

Anomite

Tumbled limestone with Black Sea fossils

Our Anomite limestone is a beautiful grey stone, enhanced by Black Sea fossil markings and delicate white and gold veining. It's a charmingly understated tile, with a smooth, tumbled surface.

The grey shades make it a good match for many colour and style options. Meanwhile, its hard-wearing properties make it a practical choice for a busy area.

Our Anomite Tumbled Limestone is available in large random length tiles or a versatile Petit Opus Pattern. We can also fabricate matching skirtings to order.

Chateaux Gris

Antiqued grey limestone

Our Chateaux collection features exquisite French limestone, reminiscent of a French country castle. It has been cleverly antiqued to suggest a medieval floor, bringing an air of authenticity.

The Chateaux Gris Antiqued Limestone features greys and warmer tones, making this elegant stone our most popular choice of grey tile.

For a cohesive interior design, we can also fabricate matching made to order skirtings.

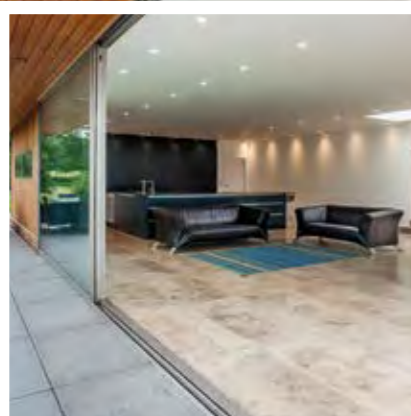

Zorzella Brushed Limestone

A handsome indoor limestone

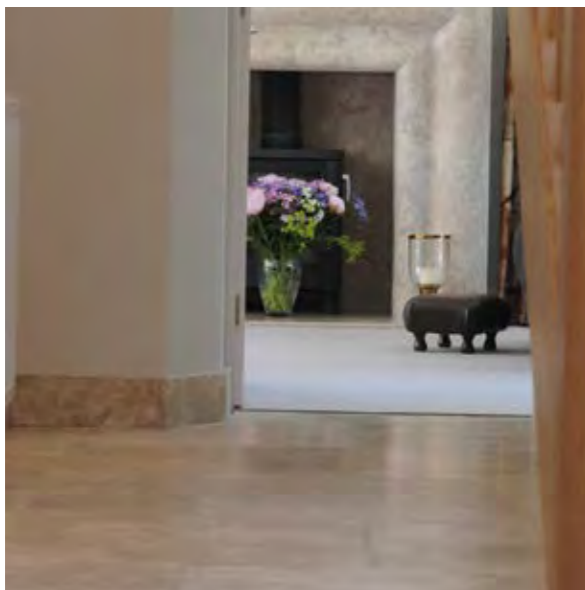

Our Zorzella tiles combine grey-blue undertones with distinctive fossilised markings. A brushed surface enhances these handsome shades, which can be spread throughout the home in a large, square-edged format.

Like all of our limestone tiles, Zorzella is able to retain heat for long periods of time, making it compatible with underfloor heating.

Matching skirtings can be fabricated to order.

Palermo Honed & Tumbled

A warm golden limestone

Palermo is a wonderful example of a Jerusalem limestone, featuring a subtle mixture of warm grey and gold hues. These colours are intertwined with characterful fossils and veins, making it a stunning wall or floor tile.

A honed and tumbled finish also adds great depth to these limestone tiles, creating an inviting surface. It's a wonderful choice for a traditional aesthetic, especially in a kitchen, hallway or garden room.

Decadent Décor

In the design world, decadence refers to luxurious, eye-catching features, which contribute an element of fascination to the space.

We've taken this concept and combined it with comfort and practicality, producing a range of exquisite porcelain tiles.
